

CLINGMAN'S
TOBACCO
REMEDIES

THE CLINGMAN TOBACCO OINTMENT
FOR THE MOST EFFECTIVE REMEDY
FOR RHEUMATISM, BRUISES, SWELLINGS,
AND ALL AFFECTIONS OF THE JOINTS.
It is a powerful and reliable remedy,
and is used by the most skillful
physicians in the world.

THE CLINGMAN TOBACCO CREAM
FOR THE MOST EFFECTIVE REMEDY
FOR RHEUMATISM, BRUISES, SWELLINGS,
AND ALL AFFECTIONS OF THE JOINTS.
It is a powerful and reliable remedy,
and is used by the most skillful
physicians in the world.

THE CLINGMAN TOBACCO PASTE
FOR THE MOST EFFECTIVE REMEDY
FOR RHEUMATISM, BRUISES, SWELLINGS,
AND ALL AFFECTIONS OF THE JOINTS.
It is a powerful and reliable remedy,
and is used by the most skillful
physicians in the world.

THE CLINGMAN TOBACCO OINTMENT
FOR THE MOST EFFECTIVE REMEDY
FOR RHEUMATISM, BRUISES, SWELLINGS,
AND ALL AFFECTIONS OF THE JOINTS.
It is a powerful and reliable remedy,
and is used by the most skillful
physicians in the world.

THE CLINGMAN TOBACCO CREAM
FOR THE MOST EFFECTIVE REMEDY
FOR RHEUMATISM, BRUISES, SWELLINGS,
AND ALL AFFECTIONS OF THE JOINTS.
It is a powerful and reliable remedy,
and is used by the most skillful
physicians in the world.

THE CLINGMAN TOBACCO PASTE
FOR THE MOST EFFECTIVE REMEDY
FOR RHEUMATISM, BRUISES, SWELLINGS,
AND ALL AFFECTIONS OF THE JOINTS.
It is a powerful and reliable remedy,
and is used by the most skillful
physicians in the world.

THE CLINGMAN TOBACCO OINTMENT
FOR THE MOST EFFECTIVE REMEDY
FOR RHEUMATISM, BRUISES, SWELLINGS,
AND ALL AFFECTIONS OF THE JOINTS.
It is a powerful and reliable remedy,
and is used by the most skillful
physicians in the world.

THE CLINGMAN TOBACCO CREAM
FOR THE MOST EFFECTIVE REMEDY
FOR RHEUMATISM, BRUISES, SWELLINGS,
AND ALL AFFECTIONS OF THE JOINTS.
It is a powerful and reliable remedy,
and is used by the most skillful
physicians in the world.

THE CLINGMAN TOBACCO PASTE
FOR THE MOST EFFECTIVE REMEDY
FOR RHEUMATISM, BRUISES, SWELLINGS,
AND ALL AFFECTIONS OF THE JOINTS.
It is a powerful and reliable remedy,
and is used by the most skillful
physicians in the world.

THE CLINGMAN TOBACCO OINTMENT
FOR THE MOST EFFECTIVE REMEDY
FOR RHEUMATISM, BRUISES, SWELLINGS,
AND ALL AFFECTIONS OF THE JOINTS.
It is a powerful and reliable remedy,
and is used by the most skillful
physicians in the world.

THE CLINGMAN TOBACCO CREAM
FOR THE MOST EFFECTIVE REMEDY
FOR RHEUMATISM, BRUISES, SWELLINGS,
AND ALL AFFECTIONS OF THE JOINTS.
It is a powerful and reliable remedy,
and is used by the most skillful
physicians in the world.

THE CLINGMAN TOBACCO PASTE
FOR THE MOST EFFECTIVE REMEDY
FOR RHEUMATISM, BRUISES, SWELLINGS,
AND ALL AFFECTIONS OF THE JOINTS.
It is a powerful and reliable remedy,
and is used by the most skillful
physicians in the world.

THE CLINGMAN TOBACCO OINTMENT
FOR THE MOST EFFECTIVE REMEDY
FOR RHEUMATISM, BRUISES, SWELLINGS,
AND ALL AFFECTIONS OF THE JOINTS.
It is a powerful and reliable remedy,
and is used by the most skillful
physicians in the world.

THE CLINGMAN TOBACCO CREAM
FOR THE MOST EFFECTIVE REMEDY
FOR RHEUMATISM, BRUISES, SWELLINGS,
AND ALL AFFECTIONS OF THE JOINTS.
It is a powerful and reliable remedy,
and is used by the most skillful
physicians in the world.

THE CLINGMAN TOBACCO PASTE
FOR THE MOST EFFECTIVE REMEDY
FOR RHEUMATISM, BRUISES, SWELLINGS,
AND ALL AFFECTIONS OF THE JOINTS.
It is a powerful and reliable remedy,
and is used by the most skillful
physicians in the world.

THE CLINGMAN TOBACCO OINTMENT
FOR THE MOST EFFECTIVE REMEDY
FOR RHEUMATISM, BRUISES, SWELLINGS,
AND ALL AFFECTIONS OF THE JOINTS.
It is a powerful and reliable remedy,
and is used by the most skillful
physicians in the world.

THE CLINGMAN TOBACCO CREAM
FOR THE MOST EFFECTIVE REMEDY
FOR RHEUMATISM, BRUISES, SWELLINGS,
AND ALL AFFECTIONS OF THE JOINTS.
It is a powerful and reliable remedy,
and is used by the most skillful
physicians in the world.

THE CLINGMAN TOBACCO PASTE
FOR THE MOST EFFECTIVE REMEDY
FOR RHEUMATISM, BRUISES, SWELLINGS,
AND ALL AFFECTIONS OF THE JOINTS.
It is a powerful and reliable remedy,
and is used by the most skillful
physicians in the world.

THE CLINGMAN TOBACCO OINTMENT
FOR THE MOST EFFECTIVE REMEDY
FOR RHEUMATISM, BRUISES, SWELLINGS,
AND ALL AFFECTIONS OF THE JOINTS.
It is a powerful and reliable remedy,
and is used by the most skillful
physicians in the world.

THE CLINGMAN TOBACCO CREAM
FOR THE MOST EFFECTIVE REMEDY
FOR RHEUMATISM, BRUISES, SWELLINGS,
AND ALL AFFECTIONS OF THE JOINTS.
It is a powerful and reliable remedy,
and is used by the most skillful
physicians in the world.

THE CLINGMAN TOBACCO PASTE
FOR THE MOST EFFECTIVE REMEDY
FOR RHEUMATISM, BRUISES, SWELLINGS,
AND ALL AFFECTIONS OF THE JOINTS.
It is a powerful and reliable remedy,
and is used by the most skillful
physicians in the world.

THE CLINGMAN TOBACCO OINTMENT
FOR THE MOST EFFECTIVE REMEDY
FOR RHEUMATISM, BRUISES, SWELLINGS,
AND ALL AFFECTIONS OF THE JOINTS.
It is a powerful and reliable remedy,
and is used by the most skillful
physicians in the world.

THE CLINGMAN TOBACCO CREAM
FOR THE MOST EFFECTIVE REMEDY
FOR RHEUMATISM, BRUISES, SWELLINGS,
AND ALL AFFECTIONS OF THE JOINTS.
It is a powerful and reliable remedy,
and is used by the most skillful
physicians in the world.

THE CLINGMAN TOBACCO PASTE
FOR THE MOST EFFECTIVE REMEDY
FOR RHEUMATISM, BRUISES, SWELLINGS,
AND ALL AFFECTIONS OF THE JOINTS.
It is a powerful and reliable remedy,
and is used by the most skillful
physicians in the world.

THE CLINGMAN TOBACCO OINTMENT
FOR THE MOST EFFECTIVE REMEDY
FOR RHEUMATISM, BRUISES, SWELLINGS,
AND ALL AFFECTIONS OF THE JOINTS.
It is a powerful and reliable remedy,
and is used by the most skillful
physicians in the world.

THE CLINGMAN TOBACCO CREAM
FOR THE MOST EFFECTIVE REMEDY
FOR RHEUMATISM, BRUISES, SWELLINGS,
AND ALL AFFECTIONS OF THE JOINTS.
It is a powerful and reliable remedy,
and is used by the most skillful
physicians in the world.

THE CLINGMAN TOBACCO PASTE
FOR THE MOST EFFECTIVE REMEDY
FOR RHEUMATISM, BRUISES, SWELLINGS,
AND ALL AFFECTIONS OF THE JOINTS.
It is a powerful and reliable remedy,
and is used by the most skillful
physicians in the world.

THE CLINGMAN TOBACCO OINTMENT
FOR THE MOST EFFECTIVE REMEDY
FOR RHEUMATISM, BRUISES, SWELLINGS,
AND ALL AFFECTIONS OF THE JOINTS.
It is a powerful and reliable remedy,
and is used by the most skillful
physicians in the world.

THE CLINGMAN TOBACCO CREAM
FOR THE MOST EFFECTIVE REMEDY
FOR RHEUMATISM, BRUISES, SWELLINGS,
AND ALL AFFECTIONS OF THE JOINTS.
It is a powerful and reliable remedy,
and is used by the most skillful
physicians in the world.

THE CLINGMAN TOBACCO PASTE
FOR THE MOST EFFECTIVE REMEDY
FOR RHEUMATISM, BRUISES, SWELLINGS,
AND ALL AFFECTIONS OF THE JOINTS.
It is a powerful and reliable remedy,
and is used by the most skillful
physicians in the world.

THE CLINGMAN TOBACCO OINTMENT
FOR THE MOST EFFECTIVE REMEDY
FOR RHEUMATISM, BRUISES, SWELLINGS,
AND ALL AFFECTIONS OF THE JOINTS.
It is a powerful and reliable remedy,
and is used by the most skillful
physicians in the world.

THE CLINGMAN TOBACCO CREAM
FOR THE MOST EFFECTIVE REMEDY
FOR RHEUMATISM, BRUISES, SWELLINGS,
AND ALL AFFECTIONS OF THE JOINTS.
It is a powerful and reliable remedy,
and is used by the most skillful
physicians in the world.

THE SUPREME COURT.

DECISIONS RENDERED TUESDAY,
DECEMBER 15, 1885.

James Jackson, Chief Justice—Hon. Samuel
Hall and Mr. H. E. Standford, Associate Justices.
Reported for the Atlanta Constitution
by J. M. Lumpkin.

State vs. Richardson. Traverse of Sheriff's Return from Whitfield. Amendment.
Traverse of Sheriff. (Before Judge Fain.)

Jackson, C. J.—A traverse of a sheriff's return made at the first term may be amended at a subsequent term by making the sheriff a party. 20 Ga. 461, 614, 215.

Judgment affirmed.
T. R. Jones, by brief, for plaintiff in error.
McCamy & Walker, for defendant.

Wright vs. Curton. Certiorari, from Dade, Roads and Bridges, Private Ways.
Certiorari. (Before Judge Fain.)

Jackson, C. J.—To acquire the right to a private way over the lands of another by prescription, it is necessary to show that the party claiming it has been in possession of the land for a sufficient period of time, and that the possession was open, notorious, and exclusive.

2. While generally it is a personal privilege to plead the statute of limitations, yet where a
wife living separate from her husband, and
he is liable to her for her maintenance, it is not a personal privilege to plead the statute.

3. Even if an administrator may hold notes
or claims which are out of date, against
the estate of a decedent, yet he cannot set them
off when the rights of others are concerned,
and the indebtedness is found to be fraudulent
on an issue made to try that point.

Judgment affirmed.
Underwood, Rowell & Cheney, for plaintiffs
in error.
Wright, Meyerhardt & Wright, for defendants.

Memphis vs. State. Beating Wife, from Barlow. Criminal. Husband and Wife.
Impeachment. Husband and Wife.
Attorney and Client. Jury and Jurors.
(Before Judge Fain.)

Hall, J.—1. Where an indictment charges
a husband with the offense of whipping, beating
and cruelly mistreating his wife, there is no
error in allowing several witnesses to testify
to several distinct beatings within two years prior to the indictment. It is error to require counsel for the state to elect one of these transactions on which he would rely for
evidence in relation to the other transactions.

2. It is an error against the state of which the defendant could not complain.
(a) If a certiorari was properly dismissed,
the judgment will not be reversed, though the
certiorari was granted by a majority of the court.

3. The defendant in a criminal case, in which he was charged with beating his wife,
examined her as a witness, without objection
from counsel for the state, and made an affidavit
in support of his testimony, and the court
testified to several distinct beatings within two years prior to the indictment. It is error to require counsel for the state to elect one of
these transactions on which he would rely for
evidence in relation to the other transactions.

4. The right of a party to impeach the
testimony of a witness is a personal privilege,
and it is error to require counsel for the state
to elect one of these transactions on which he
would rely for evidence in relation to the other
transactions.

5. The remarks of counsel in respect to the
purpose and effect of impeaching testimony
were legitimate and proper, and there was no
error in refusing to check him therein.

6. The right of a party to impeach the
testimony of a witness is a personal privilege,
and it is error to require counsel for the state
to elect one of these transactions on which he
would rely for evidence in relation to the other
transactions.

7. The remarks of counsel in respect to the
purpose and effect of impeaching testimony
were legitimate and proper, and there was no
error in refusing to check him therein.

8. The right of a party to impeach the
testimony of a witness is a personal privilege,
and it is error to require counsel for the state
to elect one of these transactions on which he
would rely for evidence in relation to the other
transactions.

9. The remarks of counsel in respect to the
purpose and effect of impeaching testimony
were legitimate and proper, and there was no
error in refusing to check him therein.

10. The right of a party to impeach the
testimony of a witness is a personal privilege,
and it is error to require counsel for the state
to elect one of these transactions on which he
would rely for evidence in relation to the other
transactions.

11. The remarks of counsel in respect to the
purpose and effect of impeaching testimony
were legitimate and proper, and there was no
error in refusing to check him therein.

12. The right of a party to impeach the
testimony of a witness is a personal privilege,
and it is error to require counsel for the state
to elect one of these transactions on which he
would rely for evidence in relation to the other
transactions.

13. The remarks of counsel in respect to the
purpose and effect of impeaching testimony
were legitimate and proper, and there was no
error in refusing to check him therein.

14. The right of a party to impeach the
testimony of a witness is a personal privilege,
and it is error to require counsel for the state
to elect one of these transactions on which he
would rely for evidence in relation to the other
transactions.

15. The remarks of counsel in respect to the
purpose and effect of impeaching testimony
were legitimate and proper, and there was no
error in refusing to check him therein.

16. The right of a party to impeach the
testimony of a witness is a personal privilege,
and it is error to require counsel for the state
to elect one of these transactions on which he
would rely for evidence in relation to the other
transactions.

17. The remarks of counsel in respect to the
purpose and effect of impeaching testimony
were legitimate and proper, and there was no
error in refusing to check him therein.

18. The right of a party to impeach the
testimony of a witness is a personal privilege,
and it is error to require counsel for the state
to elect one of these transactions on which he
would rely for evidence in relation to the other
transactions.

19. The remarks of counsel in respect to the
purpose and effect of impeaching testimony
were legitimate and proper, and there was no
error in refusing to check him therein.

20. The right of a party to impeach the
testimony of a witness is a personal privilege,
and it is error to require counsel for the state
to elect one of these transactions on which he
would rely for evidence in relation to the other
transactions.

21. The remarks of counsel in respect to the
purpose and effect of impeaching testimony
were legitimate and proper, and there was no
error in refusing to check him therein.

22. The right of a party to impeach the
testimony of a witness is a personal privilege,
and it is error to require counsel for the state
to elect one of these transactions on which he
would rely for evidence in relation to the other
transactions.

23. The remarks of counsel in respect to the
purpose and effect of impeaching testimony
were legitimate and proper, and there was no
error in refusing to check him therein.

24. The right of a party to impeach the
testimony of a witness is a personal privilege,
and it is error to require counsel for the state
to elect one of these transactions on which he
would rely for evidence in relation to the other
transactions.

25. The remarks of counsel in respect to the
purpose and effect of impeaching testimony
were legitimate and proper, and there was no
error in refusing to check him therein.

executed and re-executed in such an unusual manner. The charge, if obscure or objectionable, did no harm. If the transaction was consummated with intent to wrong creditors
dealing with the debtor and did hurt them, it was fraudulent. Bump Fraud. Conv. pp. 314-315 and cit.

7. It was right to charge § 1932 of the Code, which defines fraudulent conveyances.

8. The evidence of fraud in this case is abundant, and the verdict was justified, if not required by the evidence. 25 How. (U. S.), 477; 6 Wall, 299, head-note; 7 Bump Fraud
Conv. pp. 38, 40, 48, 34, 36, 37, and cit.; 55
Ga. 414, 17 Id., 538, 31 Id., 371, 22 Id., 402.

Judgment affirmed.
Graham & Graham, for plaintiff in error.
J. M. Neal; John H. Wike; John W. Akin;
R. W. Murphy, for defendants.

Rawlins et al., administrators, vs. Rawlins et al. Equity, from Floyd. Husband and Wife. Statute of Limitations. Allotment.
Administrators and Executors. (Before Judge Fain.)

Jackson, C. J.—This case turned on the question whether there was fraud in the giving of a note so as to absorb the share of a husband in his father's estate, and thus defeat
a recovery of alimony by his wife, and evidence was sufficient to authorize a submission of this question to the jury.

2. While generally it is a personal privilege
to plead the statute of limitations, yet where a
wife living separate from her husband, and
he is liable to her for her maintenance, it is
not a personal privilege to plead the statute.

3. Even if an administrator may hold notes
or claims which are out of date, against
the estate of a decedent, yet he cannot set them
off when the rights of others are concerned,
and the indebtedness is found to be fraudulent
on an issue made to try that point.

Judgment affirmed.
Underwood, Rowell & Cheney, for plaintiffs
in error.
Wright, Meyerhardt & Wright, for defendants.

Memphis vs. State. Beating Wife, from
Barlow. Criminal. Husband and Wife.
Impeachment. Husband and Wife.
Attorney and Client. Jury and Jurors.
(Before Judge Fain.)

Hall, J.—1. Where an indictment charges
a husband with the offense of whipping, beating
and cruelly mistreating his wife, there is no
error in allowing several witnesses to testify
to several distinct beatings within two years prior to the indictment. It is error to require counsel for the state to elect one of
these transactions on which he would rely for
evidence in relation to the other transactions.

2. It is an error against the state of which
the defendant could not complain.
(a) If a certiorari was properly dismissed,
the judgment will not be reversed, though the
certiorari was granted by a majority of the court.

3. The defendant in a criminal case, in which he was charged with beating his wife,
examined her as a witness, without objection
from counsel for the state, and made an affidavit
in support of his testimony, and the court
testified to several distinct beatings within two years prior to the indictment. It is error to require counsel for the state to elect one of
these transactions on which he would rely for
evidence in relation to the other transactions.

4. The right of a party to impeach the
testimony of a witness is a personal privilege,
and it is error to require counsel for the state
to elect one of these transactions on which he
would rely for evidence in relation to the other
transactions.

5. The remarks of counsel in respect to the
purpose and effect of impeaching testimony
were legitimate and proper, and there was no
error in refusing to check him therein.

6. The right of a party to impeach the
testimony of a witness is a personal privilege,
and it is error to require counsel for the state
to elect one of these transactions on which he
would rely for evidence in relation to the other
transactions.

7. The remarks of counsel in respect to the
purpose and effect of impeaching testimony
were legitimate and proper, and there was no
error in refusing to check him therein.

8. The right of a party to impeach the
testimony of a witness is a personal privilege,
and it is error to require counsel for the state
to elect one of these transactions on which he
would rely for evidence in relation to the other
transactions.

9. The remarks of counsel in respect to the
purpose and effect of impeaching testimony
were legitimate and proper, and there was no
error in refusing to check him therein.

10. The right of a party to impeach the
testimony of a witness is a personal privilege,
and it is error to require counsel for the state
to elect one of these transactions on which he
would rely for evidence in relation to the other
transactions.

11. The remarks of counsel in respect to the
purpose and effect of impeaching testimony
were legitimate and proper, and there was no
error in refusing to check him therein.

12. The right of a party to impeach the
testimony of a witness is a personal privilege,
and it is error to require counsel for the state
to elect one of these transactions on which he
would rely for evidence in relation to the other
transactions.

13. The remarks of counsel in respect to the
purpose and effect of impeaching testimony
were legitimate and proper, and there was no
error in refusing to check him therein.

14. The right of a party to impeach the
testimony of a witness is a personal privilege,
and it is error to require counsel for the state
to elect one of these transactions on which he
would rely for evidence in relation to the other
transactions.

15. The remarks of counsel in respect to the
purpose and effect of impeaching testimony
were legitimate and proper, and there was no
error in refusing to check him therein.

16. The right of a party to impeach the
testimony of a witness is a personal privilege,
and it is error to require counsel for the state
to elect one of these transactions on which he
would rely for evidence in relation to the other
transactions.

17. The remarks of counsel in respect to the
purpose and effect of impeaching testimony
were legitimate and proper, and there was no
error in refusing to check him therein.

18. The right of a party to impeach the
testimony of a witness is a personal privilege,
and it is error to require counsel for the state
to elect one of these transactions on which he
would rely for evidence in relation to the other
transactions.

19. The remarks of counsel in respect to the
purpose and effect of impeaching testimony
were legitimate and proper, and there was no
error in refusing to check him therein.

20. The right of a party to impeach the
testimony of a witness is a personal privilege,
and it is error to require counsel for the state
to elect one of these transactions on which he
would rely for evidence in relation to the other
transactions.

21. The remarks of counsel in respect to the
purpose and effect of impeaching testimony
were legitimate and proper, and there was no
error in refusing to check him therein.

22. The right of a party to impeach the
testimony of a witness is a personal privilege,
and it is error to require counsel for the state
to elect one of these transactions on which he
would rely for evidence in relation to the other
transactions.

23. The remarks of counsel in respect to the
purpose and effect of impeaching testimony
were legitimate and proper, and there was no
error in refusing to check him therein.

24. The right of a party to impeach the
testimony of a witness is a personal privilege,
and it is error to require counsel for the state
to elect one of these transactions on which he
would rely for evidence in relation to the other
transactions.

25. The remarks of counsel in respect to the
purpose and effect of impeaching testimony
were legitimate and proper, and there was no
error in refusing to check him therein.

and action in the case or contradicting his recollection of the matter occurring before him.
5. There was no abuse of discretion in dissolving the injunction or rescinding the order for the appointment of the receiver.

6. Nor was there any abuse of discretion in refusing the injunction and receiver as to the first defendant. There was no allegation of unfairness as to its debt, nor that its conduct was fraudulent, and the judgment was with an improper view to interfere with the rights of the complainant or was in aid of other creditors.

(a) The court had the right to allow this party, upon its application, to proceed against the mortgaged property, although it was in the hands of a receiver.

Judgment affirmed.
Miller, Akin & Harris, for plaintiff in error.
R. F. Abbott; Graham & Graham; King
& Spaulding; J. R. Gray, for defendant.

Rene Railroad vs. Wimberly. Case from Floyd. Railroad. Damages. Negligence.
Baggage. (Before Judge Simmons.)

Hall, J.—1. So long as the custody of baggage is conferred either to a past or prospective
transportation of the passenger, the company
must be regarded at least as a bailee for hire,
the fare paid extending to both the transportation of the passenger and his baggage, and the storage of the latter for a reasonable time thereafter, so as to meet any ordinary exigiency of travel, and to recover for the loss of such baggage.

2. A passenger traveling a portion of the route to his destination by one railroad, and on the next morning resumed his route by another connecting road, which used the same baggage car and platform as the first, his trunk remaining in the baggage car of the first road,
and he retaining the check; and before the train on the second road left, an employee of the first road, by mistake, placed the trunk in the wrong proper position for transportation, but on reaching his destination, it was found not to be there, and suit was brought.

3. Held, that the storage of the trunk for night was not an unreasonable length of time,
and if it was removed the next morning from
the train, it was not a breach of contract, being sent forward with the passenger on the other road, and the company's agent undertook to perform this duty, but neglected it, the company would be liable for the loss of the trunk,
for want of extraordinary care, at least as a bailee for hire, for want of ordinary care.

4. The company could not relieve itself of responsibility without in some manner accounting for the loss of the trunk and showing how it left it in custody. Its failure to do this was an error in allowing several witnesses to testify to several distinct beatings within two years prior to the indictment. It is error to require counsel for the state to elect one of
these transactions on which he would rely for
evidence in relation to the other transactions.

5. The remarks of counsel in respect to the
purpose and effect of impeaching testimony
were legitimate and proper, and there was no
error in refusing to check him therein.

6. The right of a party to impeach the
testimony of a witness is a personal privilege,
and it is error to require counsel for the state
to elect one of these transactions on which he
would rely for evidence in relation to the other
transactions.

7. The remarks of counsel in respect to the
purpose and effect of impeaching testimony
were legitimate and proper, and there was no
error in refusing to check him therein.

8. The right of a party to impeach the
testimony of a witness is a personal privilege,
and it is error to require counsel for the state
to elect one of these transactions on which he
would rely for evidence in relation to the other
transactions.

9. The remarks of counsel in respect to the
purpose and effect of impeaching testimony
were legitimate and proper, and there was no
error in refusing to check him therein.

10. The right of a party to impeach the
testimony of a witness is a personal privilege,
and it is error to require counsel for the state
to elect one of these transactions on which he
would rely for evidence in relation to the other
transactions.

11. The remarks of counsel in respect to the
purpose and effect of impeaching testimony
were legitimate and proper, and there was no
error in refusing to check him therein.

12. The right of a party to impeach the
testimony of a witness is a personal privilege,
and it is error to require counsel for the state
to elect one of these transactions on which he
would rely for evidence in relation to the other
transactions.

13. The remarks of counsel in respect to the
purpose and effect of impeaching testimony
were legitimate and proper, and there was no
error in refusing to check him therein.

14. The right of a party to impeach the
testimony of a witness is a personal privilege,
and it is error to require counsel for the state
to elect one of these transactions on which he
would rely for evidence in relation to the other
transactions.

15. The remarks of counsel in respect to the
purpose and effect of impeaching testimony
were legitimate and proper, and there was no
error in refusing to check him therein.

THE CONSTITUTION.

PUBLISHED DAILY AND WEEKLY.

ATLANTA, GEORGIA.

ATLANTA, GA., DECEMBER 24, 1885.

Indications for the South Atlantic States, taken at 10 o'clock a. m.: Local showers, followed by fair weather; winds shifting to south-west and north-west; colder in northern portion; nearly stationary, followed by lower temperature on Friday in southern portion. East Gulf States: Colder, generally fair weather; winds shifting to north-west.

The state of affairs in England renders it impossible for Mr. Parnell to attend the Irish convention in Chicago. The meeting has, therefore, been postponed until such time as the Irish leader can find time to attend it.

GREENE COUNTY, contrary to all expectations, has voted wet. It is exclusively an agricultural county, with no local whisky interest to speak of, and the only question at stake was the good policy of the proposed law.

UNCLE RUTHER HATCH wants a new stock exchange. This will give Wall street enlarged facilities for plucking and swindling the public. By all means let New York have a dozen stock exchanges, if a dozen are necessary to the comfort and profit of Wall street.

The republicans in the senate, full of vermouth and benedictine, propose to protest against the removal of republicans from office by a democratic president. These strictly temperance republicans couldn't do better. They will not only have a good deal of fun, but they will discover what sort of a man Mr. Cleveland is.

"WHAT is to become of our coverage industry?" asks the New York Times. Does the Times think that because there is to be prohibition in Atlanta that no more barrels will be needed in the country? In the fierce and vociferous language of the great western editor, who kills Washington door-keepers with his visiting card, go to go to go!

GENERAL ANDERSON, of Ohio congress-man, says the departments have been filled with favorites of former officials, and that many of these favorites are incompetent. He has introduced a bill requiring those who have never passed a civil service examination to be examined before they can be promoted from one grade to another. This bill is certainly within the spirit of the civil service law.

Senator Hampton's Bill. Third. Wade Hampton has introduced a bill making it a misdemeanor in a senator or representative to recommend any person for appointment to public office, and he proposes to press the bill after the holidays. Mr. Hampton is very much in earnest. He considers the present system vicious, and he knows it is well nigh intolerable. He therefore proposes to shift the entire burden to the executive department, where it theoretically belongs.

No doubt the present system robs congressmen of time that should be devoted to the consideration of bills in the committee room or on the floor. No doubt it degrades and belittles one of the people's representatives to wait his turn, hand in hand, at the door of some office dispensary. No doubt he would like to be relieved of the disagreeable duty. But would there be any gain in transferring the office-hunting crowd from the congressional lobbies to the white house and the departments? If officers are to be given out through the influence of personal or political friends, Mr. Hampton's bill would simply substitute political magnates outside of congress for those within. Congressmen might be relieved, but the greater evil would remain.

The entire subject needs discussion and consideration. Even if it fails of passage nothing but good can flow from a free discussion of the subject, and this, it is said, Mr. Hampton proposes to push upon the senate. His bill makes it unlawful for senators and representatives to recommend or solicit, directly or indirectly, the appointment of any person to an office under the government of the United States, and provides a fine of not more than $5,000 or less than $500 for the misdemeanor, one-half of which is to go to the informer. The bill contains a clause however that permits a member of congress to endorse applications for office as to "the facts of the case or the character of the applicant." If Senator Hampton is desirous of getting rid of the office-hunting business altogether, he will do it by having this clause stricken out; for under a statement of facts can be huddled in all the indorsement that an applicant can desire.

The truth is, the proposed law is impracticable; and no such law will ever be enforced until the spirit of the civil service act is extended in some form so as to cover all classes of government employees. The executive unaided cannot select one hundred thousand officials, and when congressmen really desire to be relieved of the torment they will devise some board or commission to stand between the place-hunters and the appointing power. Until they do this they must be content to take up the "papers" of applicants and nibble trout from the white house to the departments and from the departments to the bureaus in search of petty places for hungry constituents.

Manual Training. The St. Louis manual training school is no doubt the model industrial school of the country. Of the five lines of instruction covered in the three years' course, three are purely intellectual, while the other two are both intellectual and manual. The purely intellectual section embraces mathematics in all its departments, science, the English language and literature, history and the elements of political economy and political science. Latin and French are added as five branches. The manual section is equally comprehensive. It includes penmanship, free-hand and mechanical drawing and a wide range of tool instruction in carpentry, wood turning, moulding, brazing, soldering, forging and bench and machine work in metals.

Dr. Woodward recently explained the system of this excellent school. Continuous mental discipline is the great aim and object, as much so as in the classical schools. The student is not permitted to become an automaton. No blow is struck by him, no line drawn, no motion regulated by mechanical habit. This stage is never reached. The only habit acquired is that of thinking. The quality of his very act springs from the conscious will, accompanied by a definite act of judgment. It is the object of the St. Louis school to turn out, not boys who have been specially trained in one mechanical line, to the exclusion, or at least to the neglect, of the other lines, but evenly trained boys, with a broad foundation of serviceable knowledge, upon which they can readily build whatever superstructure of expertise may be required by their future career.

Whenever Georgia is ready to adopt the new system, she should send competent men to study the St. Louis school. There is danger that we will aim too high in the matter of technical education, and that we will build up a very different kind of school than we desire. There can be no question of the good that the proposed institution will do if it takes St. Louis, not Hoboken or Boston, as a working model.

Prevention of Yellow Fever. Senator Easton, of Louisiana, desires congress to send a scientific commission to Rio de Janeiro and Vera Cruz to investigate the new method of preventing yellow fever by inoculation. He has presented a bill to appoint a commission consisting of two yellow fever experts and a specialist in microscopy, with power to make a thorough investigation.

The work that M. Pasteur has conducted in France, and Dr. Koch in Berlin, has been supplemented in Mexico and Brazil by Drs. Camano and Freyre; and the two last named claim to have discovered a method to whose presence in the system yellow fever is due. The two eminent doctors also claim to be able to give safety from the dread disease by inoculating persons exposed to it with yellow fever microbes that have been desiccated and kept, thus in a state of suspended animation for a considerable length of time.

The new theory is accepted by the Mexican government, and Dr. Camano has inoculated the garrison at Vera Cruz. The emperor of Brazil is actively interested in the prosecution of Dr. Freyre's studies. Both governments have practically recognized the testimony of this country Dr. Joseph Holt, president of the Louisiana board of health, indorses the new theory. He recently stated before the American public health association, setting in Washington, that persons who have been inoculated with Dr. Camano's germs "have been able to pass through most virulent epidemics unscathed." The eminent physicians and specialists of the association indorsed the method, and asked congress to send a commission to investigate its merits.

The subject is one of deep importance to all the country south of the Ohio river, and such testimony as has been presented congress should not hesitate to provide for the appointment of a competent commission to ascertain what has been accomplished in the direction of preventing by inoculation epidemics of yellow fever. The cost would not be great, and the benefits, if any, would be incalculable.

A Great Reform Going On. A great western editor, who is loading around Washington for the purpose of gathering impressions and making discoveries, is engaged in writing some very entertaining editorial letters to his valuable paper. The great editor appears not to be favorably struck with some of the methods of the new democratic administration, but he is wisely tolerant of whatever seems to be amateurish or awkward. He thinks that President Cleveland is a well-meaning person, who will make discoveries for himself after awhile, and will be glad to mend his ways.

The great editor also thinks that there is too much dignified exclusion on the part of the members of the cabinet. There are various other objections to these members. One is too official, another is too dreamy, another too sublime, another too stiff, and another too provincial, and so on through the list, but it is thought that if the great editor remains around Washington there will be great improvement in all branches of the present one-horse government. The following extract, which we print word for word, will show how extremely powerful a great western editor can be when the humor strikes him:

I was invited several times by an old friend in office to come and see him, and as often repudiated for my failure to do so. One day I called and asked a man, with a melancholy cast of countenance, who sat with his feet upon an adjacent desk, if I could see my great friend. He answered with a wounded look, that the great man was busy and could not be disturbed. "Well," said I, "you take him, call, anyhow, and say to him that if he doesn't want to see me more than I want to see him, I don't want to see him at all." For a moment I thought the young man would sink into the floor, and I had to toss a glass of water in his face before he came to himself.

Would the reader know why the young man was overcome to the point of suffocation? The name on the card was that of the Hon. Henry Watterson! The wonder is that the young man recovered himself at all.

THE CONSTITUTION. ATLANTA, GA., THURSDAY DECEMBER 24 1885.

ATLANTA, GEORGIA.

ATLANTA, GA., DECEMBER 24, 1885.

Indications for the South Atlantic States, taken at 10 o'clock a. m.: Local showers, followed by fair weather; winds shifting to south-west and north-west; colder in northern portion; nearly stationary, followed by lower temperature on Friday in southern portion. East Gulf States: Colder, generally fair weather; winds shifting to north-west.

The state of affairs in England renders it impossible for Mr. Parnell to attend the Irish convention in Chicago. The meeting has, therefore, been postponed until such time as the Irish leader can find time to attend it.

GREENE COUNTY, contrary to all expectations, has voted wet. It is exclusively an agricultural county, with no local whisky interest to speak of, and the only question at stake was the good policy of the proposed law.

UNCLE RUTHER HATCH wants a new stock exchange. This will give Wall street enlarged facilities for plucking and swindling the public. By all means let New York have a dozen stock exchanges, if a dozen are necessary to the comfort and profit of Wall street.

The republicans in the senate, full of vermouth and benedictine, propose to protest against the removal of republicans from office by a democratic president. These strictly temperance republicans couldn't do better. They will not only have a good deal of fun, but they will discover what sort of a man Mr. Cleveland is.

"WHAT is to become of our coverage industry?" asks the New York Times. Does the Times think that because there is to be prohibition in Atlanta that no more barrels will be needed in the country? In the fierce and vociferous language of the great western editor, who kills Washington door-keepers with his visiting card, go to go to go!

GENERAL ANDERSON, of Ohio congress-man, says the departments have been filled with favorites of former officials, and that many of these favorites are incompetent. He has introduced a bill requiring those who have never passed a civil service examination to be examined before they can be promoted from one grade to another. This bill is certainly within the spirit of the civil service law.

Senator Hampton's Bill. Third. Wade Hampton has introduced a bill making it a misdemeanor in a senator or representative to recommend any person for appointment to public office, and he proposes to press the bill after the holidays. Mr. Hampton is very much in earnest. He considers the present system vicious, and he knows it is well nigh intolerable. He therefore proposes to shift the entire burden to the executive department, where it theoretically belongs.

No doubt the present system robs congressmen of time that should be devoted to the consideration of bills in the committee room or on the floor. No doubt it degrades and belittles one of the people's representatives to wait his turn, hand in hand, at the door of some office dispensary. No doubt he would like to be relieved of the disagreeable duty. But would there be any gain in transferring the office-hunting crowd from the congressional lobbies to the white house and the departments? If officers are to be given out through the influence of personal or political friends, Mr. Hampton's bill would simply substitute political magnates outside of congress for those within. Congressmen might be relieved, but the greater evil would remain.

The entire subject needs discussion and consideration. Even if it fails of passage nothing but good can flow from a free discussion of the subject, and this, it is said, Mr. Hampton proposes to push upon the senate. His bill makes it unlawful for senators and representatives to recommend or solicit, directly or indirectly, the appointment of any person to an office under the government of the United States, and provides a fine of not more than $5,000 or less than $500 for the misdemeanor, one-half of which is to go to the informer. The bill contains a clause however that permits a member of congress to endorse applications for office as to "the facts of the case or the character of the applicant." If Senator Hampton is desirous of getting rid of the office-hunting business altogether, he will do it by having this clause stricken out; for under a statement of facts can be huddled in all the indorsement that an applicant can desire.

The truth is, the proposed law is impracticable; and no such law will ever be enforced until the spirit of the civil service act is extended in some form so as to cover all classes of government employees. The executive unaided cannot select one hundred thousand officials, and when congressmen really desire to be relieved of the torment they will devise some board or commission to stand between the place-hunters and the appointing power. Until they do this they must be content to take up the "papers" of applicants and nibble trout from the white house to the departments and from the departments to the bureaus in search of petty places for hungry constituents.

Manual Training. The St. Louis manual training school is no doubt the model industrial school of the country. Of the five lines of instruction covered in the three years' course, three are purely intellectual, while the other two are both intellectual and manual. The purely intellectual section embraces mathematics in all its departments, science, the English language and literature, history and the elements of political economy and political science. Latin and French are added as five branches. The manual section is

THE CONSTITUTION. ATLANTA, GA., THURSDAY DECEMBER 24 1885.

ATLANTA, GEORGIA.

ATLANTA, GA., DECEMBER 24, 1885.

Indications for the South Atlantic States, taken at 10 o'clock a. m.: Local showers, followed by fair weather; winds shifting to south-west and north-west; colder in northern portion; nearly stationary, followed by lower temperature on Friday in southern portion. East Gulf States: Colder, generally fair weather; winds shifting to north-west.

The state of affairs in England renders it impossible for Mr. Parnell to attend the Irish convention in Chicago. The meeting has, therefore, been postponed until such time as the Irish leader can find time to attend it.

GREENE COUNTY, contrary to all expectations, has voted wet. It is exclusively an agricultural county, with no local whisky interest to speak of, and the only question at stake was the good policy of the proposed law.

UNCLE RUTHER HATCH wants a new stock exchange. This will give Wall street enlarged facilities for plucking and swindling the public. By all means let New York have a dozen stock exchanges, if a dozen are necessary to the comfort and profit of Wall street.

The republicans in the senate, full of vermouth and benedictine, propose to protest against the removal of republicans from office by a democratic president. These strictly temperance republicans couldn't do better. They will not only have a good deal of fun, but they will discover what sort of a man Mr. Cleveland is.

"WHAT is to become of our coverage industry?" asks the New York Times. Does the Times think that because there is to be prohibition in Atlanta that no more barrels will be needed in the country? In the fierce and vociferous language of the great western editor, who kills Washington door-keepers with his visiting card, go to go to go!

GENERAL ANDERSON, of Ohio congress-man, says the departments have been filled with favorites of former officials, and that many of these favorites are incompetent. He has introduced a bill requiring those who have never passed a civil service examination to be examined before they can be promoted from one grade to another. This bill is certainly within the spirit of the civil service law.

Senator Hampton's Bill. Third. Wade Hampton has introduced a bill making it a misdemeanor in a senator or representative to recommend any person for appointment to public office, and he proposes to press the bill after the holidays. Mr. Hampton is very much in earnest. He considers the present system vicious, and he knows it is well nigh intolerable. He therefore proposes to shift the entire burden to the executive department, where it theoretically belongs.

No doubt the present system robs congressmen of time that should be devoted to the consideration of bills in the committee room or on the floor. No doubt it degrades and belittles one of the people's representatives to wait his turn, hand in hand, at the door of some office dispensary. No doubt he would like to be relieved of the disagreeable duty. But would there be any gain in transferring the office-hunting crowd from the congressional lobbies to the white house and the departments? If officers are to be given out through the influence of personal or political friends, Mr. Hampton's bill would simply substitute political magnates outside of congress for those within. Congressmen might be relieved, but the greater evil would remain.

The entire subject needs discussion and consideration. Even if it fails of passage nothing but good can flow from a free discussion of the subject, and this, it is said, Mr. Hampton proposes to push upon the senate. His bill makes it unlawful for senators and representatives to recommend or solicit, directly or indirectly, the appointment of any person to an office under the government of the United States, and provides a fine of not more than $5,000 or less than $500 for the misdemeanor, one-half of which is to go to the informer. The bill contains a clause however that permits a member of congress to endorse applications for office as to "the facts of the case or the character of the applicant." If Senator Hampton is desirous of getting rid of the office-hunting business altogether, he will do it by having this clause stricken out; for under a statement of facts can be huddled in all the indorsement that an applicant can desire.

The truth is, the proposed law is impracticable; and no such law will ever be enforced until the spirit of the civil service act is extended in some form so as to cover all classes of government employees. The executive unaided cannot select one hundred thousand officials, and when congressmen really desire to be relieved of the torment they will devise some board or commission to stand between the place-hunters and the appointing power. Until they do this they must be content to take up the "papers" of applicants and nibble trout from the white house to the departments and from the departments to the bureaus in search of petty places for hungry constituents.

Manual Training. The St. Louis manual training school is no doubt the model industrial school of the country. Of the five lines of instruction covered in the three years' course, three are purely intellectual, while the other two are both intellectual and manual. The purely intellectual section embraces mathematics in all its departments, science, the English language and literature, history and the elements of political economy and political science. Latin and French are added as five branches. The manual section is

THE CONSTITUTION. ATLANTA, GA., THURSDAY DECEMBER 24 1885.

ATLANTA, GEORGIA.

ATLANTA, GA., DECEMBER 24, 1885.

Indications for the South Atlantic States, taken at 10 o'clock a. m.: Local showers, followed by fair weather; winds shifting to south-west and north-west; colder in northern portion; nearly stationary, followed by lower temperature on Friday in southern portion. East Gulf States: Colder, generally fair weather; winds shifting to north-west.

The state of affairs in England renders it impossible for Mr. Parnell to attend the Irish convention in Chicago. The meeting has, therefore, been postponed until such time as the Irish leader can find time to attend it.

GREENE COUNTY, contrary to all expectations, has voted wet. It is exclusively an agricultural county, with no local whisky interest to speak of, and the only question at stake was the good policy of the proposed law.

UNCLE RUTHER HATCH wants a new stock exchange. This will give Wall street enlarged facilities for plucking and swindling the public. By all means let New York have a dozen stock exchanges, if a dozen are necessary to the comfort and profit of Wall street.

The republicans in the senate, full of vermouth and benedictine, propose to protest against the removal of republicans from office by a democratic president. These strictly temperance republicans couldn't do better. They will not only have a good deal of fun, but they will discover what sort of a man Mr. Cleveland is.

"WHAT is to become of our coverage industry?" asks the New York Times. Does the Times think that because there is to be prohibition in Atlanta that no more barrels will be needed in the country? In the fierce and vociferous language of the great western editor, who kills Washington door-keepers with his visiting card, go to go to go!

GENERAL ANDERSON, of Ohio congress-man, says the departments have been filled with favorites of former officials, and that many of these favorites are incompetent. He has introduced a bill requiring those who have never passed a civil service examination to be examined before they can be promoted from one grade to another. This bill is certainly within the spirit of the civil service law.

Senator Hampton's Bill. Third. Wade Hampton has introduced a bill making it a misdemeanor in a senator or representative to recommend any person for appointment to public office, and he proposes to press the bill after the holidays. Mr. Hampton is very much in earnest. He considers the present system vicious, and he knows it is well nigh intolerable. He therefore proposes to shift the entire burden to the executive department, where it theoretically belongs.

No doubt the present system robs congressmen of time that should be devoted to the consideration of bills in the committee room or on the floor. No doubt it degrades and belittles one of the people's representatives to wait his turn, hand in hand, at the door of some office dispensary. No doubt he would like to be relieved of the disagreeable duty. But would there be any gain in transferring the office-hunting crowd from the congressional lobbies to the white house and the departments? If officers are to be given out through the influence of personal or political friends, Mr. Hampton's bill would simply substitute political magnates outside of congress for those within. Congressmen might be relieved, but the greater evil would remain.

The entire subject needs discussion and consideration. Even if it fails of passage nothing but good can flow from a free discussion of the subject, and this, it is said, Mr. Hampton proposes to push upon the senate. His bill makes it unlawful for senators and representatives to recommend or solicit, directly or indirectly, the appointment of any person to an office under the government of the United States, and provides a fine of not more than $5,000 or less than $500 for the misdemeanor, one-half of which is to go to the informer. The bill contains a clause however that permits a member of congress to endorse applications for office as to "the facts of the case or the character of the applicant." If Senator Hampton is desirous of getting rid of the office-hunting business altogether, he will do it by having this clause stricken out; for under a statement of facts can be huddled in all the indorsement that an applicant can desire.

The truth is, the proposed law is impracticable; and no such law will ever be enforced until the spirit of the civil service act is extended in some form so as to cover all classes of government employees. The executive unaided cannot select one hundred thousand officials, and when congressmen really desire to be relieved of the torment they will devise some board or commission to stand between the place-hunters and the appointing power. Until they do this they must be content to take up the "papers" of applicants and nibble trout from the white house to the departments and from the departments to the bureaus in search of petty places for hungry constituents.

Manual Training. The St. Louis manual training school is no doubt the model industrial school of the country. Of the five lines of instruction covered in the three years' course, three are purely intellectual, while the other two are both intellectual and manual. The purely intellectual section embraces mathematics in all its departments, science, the English language and literature, history and the elements of political economy and political science. Latin and French are added as five branches. The manual section is

THE CONSTITUTION. ATLANTA, GA., THURSDAY DECEMBER 24 1885.

ATLANTA, GEORGIA.

ATLANTA, GA., DECEMBER 24, 1885.

Indications for the South Atlantic States, taken at 10 o'clock a. m.: Local showers, followed by fair weather; winds shifting to south-west and north-west; colder in northern portion; nearly stationary, followed by lower temperature on Friday in southern portion. East Gulf States: Colder, generally fair weather; winds shifting to north-west.

The state of affairs in England renders it impossible for Mr. Parnell to attend the Irish convention in Chicago. The meeting has, therefore, been postponed until such time as the Irish leader can find time to attend it.

GREENE COUNTY, contrary to all expectations, has voted wet. It is exclusively an agricultural county, with no local whisky interest to speak of, and the only question at stake was the good policy of the proposed law.

UNCLE RUTHER HATCH wants a new stock exchange. This will give Wall street enlarged facilities for plucking and swindling the public. By all means let New York have a dozen stock exchanges, if a dozen are necessary to the comfort and profit of Wall street.

The republicans in the senate, full of vermouth and benedictine, propose to protest against the removal of republicans from office by a democratic president. These strictly temperance republicans couldn't do better. They will not only have a good deal of fun, but they will discover what sort of a man Mr. Cleveland is.

"WHAT is to become of our coverage industry?" asks the New York Times. Does the Times think that because there is to be prohibition in Atlanta that no more barrels will be needed in the country? In the fierce and vociferous language of the great western editor, who kills Washington door-keepers with his visiting card, go to go to go!

GENERAL ANDERSON, of Ohio congress-man, says the departments have been filled with favorites of former officials, and that many of these favorites are incompetent. He has introduced a bill requiring those who have never passed a civil service examination to be examined before they can be promoted from one grade to another. This bill is certainly within the spirit of the civil service law.

Senator Hampton's Bill. Third. Wade Hampton has introduced a bill making it a misdemeanor in a senator or representative to recommend any person for appointment to public office, and he proposes to press the bill after the holidays. Mr. Hampton is very much in earnest. He considers the present system vicious, and he knows it is well nigh intolerable. He therefore proposes to shift the entire burden to the executive department, where it theoretically belongs.

No doubt the present system robs congressmen of time that should be devoted to the consideration of bills in the committee room or on the floor. No doubt it degrades and belittles one of the people's representatives to wait his turn, hand in hand, at the door of some office dispensary. No doubt he would like to be relieved of the disagreeable duty. But would there be any gain in transferring the office-hunting crowd from the congressional lobbies to the white house and the departments? If officers are to be given out through the influence of personal or political friends, Mr. Hampton's bill would simply substitute political magnates outside of congress for those within. Congressmen might be relieved, but the greater evil would remain.

The entire subject needs discussion and consideration. Even if it fails of passage nothing but good can flow from a free discussion of the subject, and this, it is said, Mr. Hampton proposes to push upon the senate. His bill makes it unlawful for senators and representatives to recommend or solicit, directly or indirectly, the appointment of any person to an office under the government of the United States, and provides a fine of not more than $5,000 or less than $500 for the misdemeanor, one-half of which is to go to the informer. The bill contains a clause however that permits a member of congress to endorse applications for office as to "the facts of the case or the character of the applicant." If Senator Hampton is desirous of getting rid of the office-hunting business altogether, he will do it by having this clause stricken out; for under a statement of facts can be huddled in all the indorsement that an applicant can desire.

The truth is, the proposed law is impracticable; and no such law will ever be enforced until the spirit of the civil service act is extended in some form so as to cover all classes of government employees. The executive unaided cannot select one hundred thousand officials, and when congressmen really desire to be relieved of the torment they will devise some board or commission to stand between the place-hunters and the appointing power. Until they do this they must be content to take up the "papers" of applicants and nibble trout from the white house to the departments and from the departments to the bureaus in search of petty places for hungry constituents.

Manual Training. The St. Louis manual training school is no doubt the model industrial school of the country. Of the five lines of instruction covered in the three years' course, three are purely intellectual, while the other two are both intellectual and manual. The purely intellectual section embraces mathematics in all its departments, science, the English language and literature, history and the elements of political economy and political science. Latin and French are added as five branches. The manual section is

THE CONSTITUTION. ATLANTA, GA., THURSDAY DECEMBER 24 1885.

ATLANTA, GEORGIA.

ATLANTA, GA., DECEMBER 24, 1885.

Indications for the South Atlantic States, taken at 10 o'clock a. m.: Local showers, followed by fair weather; winds shifting to south-west and north-west; colder in northern portion; nearly stationary, followed by lower temperature on Friday in southern portion. East Gulf States: Colder, generally fair weather; winds shifting to north-west.

The state of affairs in England renders it impossible for Mr. Parnell to attend the Irish convention in Chicago. The meeting has, therefore, been postponed until such time as the Irish leader can find time to attend it.

GREENE COUNTY, contrary to all expectations, has voted wet. It is exclusively an agricultural county, with no local whisky interest to speak of, and the only question at stake was the good policy of the proposed law.

UNCLE RUTHER HATCH wants a new stock exchange. This will give Wall street enlarged facilities for plucking and swindling the public. By all means let New York have a dozen stock exchanges, if a dozen are necessary to the comfort and profit of Wall street.

The republicans in the senate, full of vermouth and benedictine, propose to protest against the removal of republicans from office by a democratic president. These strictly temperance republicans couldn't do better. They will not only have a good deal of fun, but they will discover what sort of a man Mr. Cleveland is.

"WHAT is to become of our coverage industry?" asks the New York Times. Does the Times think that because there is to be prohibition in Atlanta that no more barrels will be needed in the country? In the fierce and vociferous language of the great western editor, who kills Washington door-keepers with his visiting card, go to go to go!

GENERAL ANDERSON, of Ohio congress-man, says the departments have been filled with favorites of former officials, and that many of these favorites are incompetent. He has introduced a bill requiring those who have never passed a civil service examination to be examined before they can be promoted from one grade to another. This bill is certainly within the spirit of the civil service law.

Senator Hampton's Bill. Third. Wade Hampton has introduced a bill making it a misdemeanor in a senator or representative to recommend any person for appointment to public office, and he proposes to press the bill after the holidays. Mr. Hampton is very much in earnest. He considers the present system vicious, and he knows it is well nigh intolerable. He therefore proposes to shift the entire burden to the executive department, where it theoretically belongs.

No doubt the present system robs congressmen of time that should be devoted to the consideration of bills in the committee room or on the floor. No doubt it degrades and belittles one of the people's representatives to wait his turn, hand in hand, at the door of some office dispensary. No doubt he would like to be relieved of the disagreeable duty. But would there be any gain in transferring the office-hunting crowd from the congressional lobbies to the white house and the departments? If officers are to be given out through the influence of personal or political friends, Mr. Hampton's bill would simply substitute political magnates outside of congress for those within. Congressmen might be relieved, but the greater evil would remain.

The entire subject needs discussion and consideration. Even if it fails of passage nothing but good can flow from a free discussion of the subject, and this, it is said, Mr. Hampton proposes to push upon the senate. His bill makes it unlawful for senators and representatives to recommend or solicit, directly or indirectly, the appointment of any person to an office under the government of the United States, and provides a fine of not more than $5,000 or less than $500 for the misdemeanor, one-half of which is to go to the informer. The bill contains a clause however that permits a member of congress to endorse applications for office as to "the facts of the case or the character of the applicant." If Senator Hampton is desirous of getting rid of the office-hunting business altogether, he will do it by having this clause stricken out; for under a statement of facts can be huddled in all the indorsement that an applicant can desire.

The truth is, the proposed law is impracticable; and no such law will ever be enforced until the spirit of the civil service act is extended in some form so as to cover all classes of government employees. The executive unaided cannot select one hundred thousand officials, and when congressmen really desire to be relieved of the torment they will devise some board or commission to stand between the place-hunters and the appointing power. Until they do this they must be content to take up the "papers" of applicants and nibble trout from the white house to the departments and from the departments to the bureaus in search of petty places for hungry constituents.

Manual Training. The St. Louis manual training school is no doubt the model industrial school of the country. Of the five lines of instruction covered in the three years' course, three are purely intellectual, while the other two are both intellectual and manual. The purely intellectual section embraces mathematics in all its departments, science, the English language and literature, history and the elements of political economy and political science. Latin and French are added as five branches. The manual section is

THE CONSTITUTION. ATLANTA, GA., THURSDAY DECEMBER 24 1885.

ATLANTA, GEORGIA.

ATLANTA, GA., DECEMBER 24, 1885.

Indications for the South Atlantic States, taken at 10 o'clock a. m.: Local showers, followed by fair weather; winds shifting to south-west and north-west; colder in northern portion; nearly stationary, followed by lower temperature on Friday in southern portion. East Gulf States: Colder, generally fair weather; winds shifting to north-west.

The state of affairs in England renders it impossible for Mr. Parnell to attend the Irish convention in Chicago. The meeting has, therefore, been postponed until such time as the Irish leader can find time to attend it.

GREENE COUNTY, contrary to all expectations, has voted wet. It is exclusively an agricultural county, with no local whisky interest to speak of, and the only question at stake was the good policy of the proposed law.

UNCLE RUTHER HATCH wants a new stock exchange. This will give Wall street enlarged facilities for plucking and swindling the public. By all means let New York have a dozen stock exchanges, if a dozen are necessary to the comfort and profit of Wall street.

The republicans in the senate, full of vermouth and benedictine, propose to protest against the removal of republicans from office by a democratic president. These strictly temperance republicans couldn't do better. They will not only have a good deal of fun, but they will discover what sort of a man Mr. Cleveland is.

"WHAT is to become of our coverage industry?" asks the New York Times. Does the Times think that because there is to be prohibition in Atlanta that no more barrels will be needed in the country? In the fierce and vociferous language of the great western editor, who kills Washington door-keepers with his visiting card, go to go to go!

GENERAL ANDERSON, of Ohio congress-man, says the departments have been filled with favorites of former officials, and that many of these favorites are incompetent. He has introduced a bill requiring those who have never passed a civil service examination to be examined before they can be promoted from one grade to another. This bill is certainly within the spirit of the civil service law.

Senator Hampton's Bill. Third. Wade Hampton has introduced a bill making it a misdemeanor in a senator or representative to recommend any person for appointment to public office, and he proposes to press the bill after the holidays. Mr. Hampton is very much in earnest. He considers the present system vicious, and he knows it is well nigh intolerable. He therefore proposes to shift the entire burden to the executive department, where it theoretically belongs.

No doubt the present system robs congressmen of time that should be devoted to the consideration of bills in the committee room or on the floor. No doubt it degrades and belittles one of the people's representatives to wait his turn, hand in hand, at the door of some office dispensary. No doubt he would like to be relieved of the disagreeable duty. But would there be any gain in transferring the office-hunting crowd from the congressional lobbies to the white house and the departments? If officers are to be given out through the influence of personal or political friends, Mr. Hampton's bill would simply substitute political magnates outside of congress for those within. Congressmen might be relieved, but the greater evil would remain.

THE CONSTITUTION.
FOR TO-DAY, DEC. 24, 1885.

EVENTS FOR TO-DAY, DEC. 21, 1885.
ATLANTA LODGE, NO. 50, E. AND A. M., MEETS AT 7 P. M.
W. C. T. U. MEETS AT 3 P. M.
AT THE OPERA HOUSE—"PECK'S BAD BOY AND HIS PAPA."

THROUGH THE CITY.

Favoured Paragraphs Caught on the Fly by the Constitution Reporters.

TO CLOSE FOR CHRISTMAS.—The hall of the Young Men's Library association will be closed
Christmas day.

LARCENY AFTER TRUST.—S. W. Holland, charged with larceny after trust, was given a cell yesterday.

HE STOLE A HANDKERCHIEF.—Will McErwin yesterday entered High's and stole a silk handkerchief. He was given a cell.

TEMPORARY ADMINISTRATOR.—Mr. John E. Broomhead was yesterday appointed temporary administrator on the estate of Mr. B. H. Broomhead, deceased.

THE POSTOFFICE.—The stamp and general delivery windows will be open from 7.30 to 10 o'clock tomorrow. The carriers will make one full delivery in the morning.

THE ALDERMEN.—The board of aldermen met yesterday in regular session. There was no business of importance before them and the session was devoid of interest.

HEAVY WORK.—Postmaster Wilson says the men are hard worked, and that an immense amount of mail is going through the office. The sale of stamps has been very heavy.

FEASTING THE UNFORTUNATE.—Mr. W. A. ... the Sultan ...

Moore yesterday jail for the chickens, six hams, barrel of potatoes, barrel of apples, and other things for the prisoners. Several other donations were sent in.

FOR LUNACY.—This morning at half past eight o'clock Judge Calhoun will have before him Mr. Will Thompson on a writ of lunacy. He is the young man who lost his mind a few days ago. His many friends trust that he may soon recover. His is indeed a sad case.

THE CITY COURT.—This court has adjourned till the 15th of January. Juris have been drawn for the 15th and 25th of January and for the first and eighth of February. The first

DANCING THE GERMAN.—The North Side german club gave an elegant entertainment at the Kimball last evening. The hall room was crowded and among those who participated in dancing the german were a number of visiting young ladies. Dancing was kept up until a late hour. A full description of the evening will appear in SUNDAY'S CONSTITUTION.

One of them was a blank book and the others contained jury certificates, also. The books were assigned as the value to any one but the loser, it is hoped that the books will be returned by the party who found them.

SAMUEL W. GOODE'S SALE YESTERDAY.—The vacant lot on the corner of the Boulevard and East Main street, sold at auction by Mr. Goode yesterday afternoon, brought $1,047.50. The lot was 104x136 feet. The highest price ever offered for this lot when the "boom" was on, was $1250, and when it is remembered that this sale yesterday was on the eve of Christmas, and the times generally, the results are really quite satisfactory. The story, and owners of the lot said in their holdings, Mr. N. R.

TEMPORARY INJUNCTIONS.—The trustee of the First Methodist church, south Atlanta, have brought a bill for restraining the city of Atlanta and J. W. Lloyd, marshal, from selling the church property to pay for street pavement. Judge M. J. Clark has granted a temporary injunction, and has set the case for trial January 9th, 1886. Judge Clark also granted a temporary injunction in the case of Bishop John W. Lloyd, trustee of St. Luke's church, vs. the city of Atlanta, to restrain them from selling the church property to pay for street pavement. This case will be heard on the 9th of January.

Don't forget THEM.—The children of "Our Sunday-school" will give a Christmas tree entertainment at the new rooms of the Marietta street mission tomorrow night. Yesterday the room, No. 170 Marietta street, which has for a long time been used as a bar room, was rented for next week for the purpose of the business and furniture, and chairs and gas fixtures will be put in, so that tonight those who attended prayer meeting will be surprised and delighted with the change. The entertainment tomorrow night will consist of songs and recitations by the children and distribution of presents from the new mission society. Contrabands, second-hand clothing, and other goods, hats, etc., as well as confection-

money, etc., for the tree can be left at Phillips & Crew's, and will be thankfully received. This a grand opportunity to lend a helping hand to a good cause. Do what you can.

CAPTAIN ANDREWS TAKES THE ROAD AGAIN.—Captain Robert W. Andrews the destined will leave to-day for Saunter, S. C., his home. He will strike out over the Western railroad, and hope to get home in a week or two. He says that if remaining at his post a few days he will leave for Northampton. From thence he will go to Washington City to confer with the publishers of his book, and then go to Boston where he will visit with his wife. He will be well as usual, and of his who resides there. He will be well as usual.

ALL QUIET AT THE CAPITOL.—The various departments about the capitol showed up yesterday in the way of news. In the moment of agriculture the usual business goes on, and the usual life of the town goes on, and about an item." I haven't a thing to say about Colonel Towers, principal keeper of penitentiary, in response to an inquiry from the reporter as to what was going on. The reporter then entered the comptroller's office, and found Mr. C. Wright with an official while upon his constance. "Come back," said the colonel, "and tell me what the news is." The reporter accommodated him as fully as possible with what was on about the city, and asked him to come to his tongue and let the news flow out. He said that he could accommodate the reporter if he would come to his chamber, and the re-departed with a seven-ton load at disposal on his face. Entering the treasure's office, weary dispenser of news found Colonel Speer locking the large doors of the iron safe. Mr. Fred Wolfe was seated on a sofa, and Mr. Bob Herdeman about the fireplace. Pleading again for the protection of the safe for an item, and the pencil pusher as report assailed the executive officer.

"Nothing today," said Colonel Warm, "haven't a line to give you," put in Mr. Herdeman. Colonel Tippecanoe Harrison, in an inquiry, said that he knew of no one wanted to know of the Judge. Judge Clark rendered a decision in the prohibition of this. In this way a tour of the department to furnish a single item of interest. A General Stephens, who some time ago elected to supply apples for the executive department, was out, and not even a cent could be had to compensate the reporter for his visit to the state house.

THE CONSTITUTION.

EVENTS FOR TO-DAY, DEC. 24, 1885.

AT 10 A. M. MEETING OF THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN.
AT 11 A. M. MEETING OF THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN.
AT 1 P. M. MEETING OF THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN.
AT 2 P. M. MEETING OF THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN.
AT 3 P. M. MEETING OF THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN.
AT 4 P. M. MEETING OF THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN.
AT 5 P. M. MEETING OF THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN.
AT 6 P. M. MEETING OF THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN.
AT 7 P. M. MEETING OF THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN.
AT 8 P. M. MEETING OF THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN.
AT 9 P. M. MEETING OF THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

THROUGH THE CITY.

Paraglyphs Caught on the Fly by the Constitution.—The hall of the Young Men's Library association will be closed Christmas day.

LARCENY AFTER TRUST.—S. W. Holland, charged with larceny after trust, was given a cell yesterday.

HE STOLE A HANDKERCHIEF.—Will McEwen yesterday entered a cell and stole a silk handkerchief. He was given a cell.

TEMPORARY ADMINISTRATOR.—Mr. John S. Brownhead was yesterday appointed temporary administrator on the estate of Mr. E. H. Brownhead, deceased.

THE POSTOFFICE.—The stamp and general delivery windows will be open from 7:30 to 10 o'clock tomorrow. The carriers will make one full delivery in the morning.

THE ALDERMEN.—The board of aldermen met yesterday in regular session. There was no business of importance before them and the session was devoid of interest.

HEAVY WORK.—Postmaster Wilson says the men are hard worked and that an immense amount of mail is going through the office. The sale of stamps has been very heavy.

FEASTING THE UNFORTUNATE.—Mr. W. A. Moore yesterday sent to the Fulton county jail three dozen chickens, six hams, barrel of potatoes, barrel of apples, and other things for the prisoners. Several other donations were sent in.

FOR LUNACY.—This morning at half past eight o'clock Judge Calhoun will have before him Mr. Will Thompson on a writ of lunacy. He is the young man who lost his mind a few days ago. His many friends trust that he may soon recover. His is indeed a sad case.

THE CITY COURT.—This court has adjourned till the 15th of January. Jurors have been drawn for the 15th and 25th of January and for the first and eighth of February. The first of February is for criminal work and the eighth for civil. An effort will be made to get a large number of prisoners out of jail.

DANCING THE GERMAN.—The North Side German club gave an elegant entertainment at the Knickerbocker last night. The ball room was crowded and among those who participated in dancing the german were a number of visiting young ladies. Dancing was kept up until a late hour. A full description of the evening will appear in Saturday's Constitution.

CORONER HAYNES LOSES HIS BOOKS.—Ten days ago Coroner O. R. Haynes, of the county, had the misfortune to lose two books in going from the workhouse to the depot. One of them was a blank book and the other contained jury certificates, about half of them were unsigned. As they are no value to anyone but the loser, it is hoped that the books will be returned by the party who found them.

SAMUEL W. GOOD'S SALE YESTERDAY.—The vacant lot on the corner of the Boulevard and East Main street, sold at auction by Mr. Good yesterday afternoon, brought $1,000. The lot was 10x130 feet. The highest price ever offered for this lot when the "boom" was on, was $1250, and when it is remembered that this sale yesterday was on the eve of Christmas, and the times generally dull, the price realized was quite satisfactory, and owners may feel safe in their holdings. Mr. Good sold the property in his best style.

TEMPORARY INJUNCTION.—The trustee of the First Methodist church, south Atlanta, have brought a bill in equity enjoining the city of Atlanta and J. W. Lloyd, marshal, from selling the church property to pay for street pavement. Judge M. J. Clark has granted a temporary injunction, and has set the case for trial January 9th, 1886. Judge Clark also granted a temporary injunction in the case of Bishop John W. Beckwith, trustee of St. Luke's cathedral, vs. the city of Atlanta, to restrain them from selling the church property to pay for street pavement. This case will be heard on the 9th of January.

Don't Forget Them.—The children of "Our Sunday-school" will give a Christmas tree entertainment at the new rooms of the Marietta street mission tomorrow night. Yesterday the room, No. 150 Marietta street, which has for a long time been used as a bar room, was rented for next year, and today the one hundred and fifty new chairs and gas fixtures will be put in, so that tonight those who attend prayer meeting will be surprised and delighted with the change. The entertainment tomorrow night will consist of songs and recitations by the children, and distribution of presents from the Christmas-tree. Contributions of new or second-hand clothing, orders for shoes, hats, etc., as well as confectioneries, candy, etc., for the tree can be left at Bishop Beckwith's residence, or at the mission, or at the church. This is a grand opportunity to lend a helping hand to a good cause. Do what you can.

CAPTAIN ANDREWS TAKES THE ROAD AGAIN.—Captain Robert W. Andrews the pedestrian will leave to-day for Southampton, Va. From there he will go to Washington city to confer with the publishers of his book, and then go on to Boston where he will visit a son of his who resides there. He will be accompanied on his trip by his faithful Fido. The captain was the recipient of much attention yesterday by citizens of Atlanta who wanted to hear him talk of his travels and his exploits. He talks of walking from one point to another, a distance of several hundred miles, with as much indifference as if he were going only a block or two "to see a man." Yesterday Captain Andrews kept his legs in working order, walked about the city viewing the sights. Wherever he went he attracted much attention, and his exploits as published in THE CONSTITUTION yesterday, were commented upon generally with much interest.

ALL QUIET AT THE CAPITOL.—The various departments about the capitol showed up "dry" yesterday in the way of news. In the department of agriculture the usual routine work was going on, and THE CONSTITUTION walked out without an item. "I haven't a thing today," said Colonel Towers, principal keeper of the penitentiary, in response to an inquiry from the reporter as to what was going on. The reporter then entered the comptroller-general's office and found Mr. Wright with an April smile upon his countenance. "Come in," said the colonel, "and tell me what's the news." The reporter accommodated him as fully as possible with what was going on about the city, and asked him to uncurl his tongue and let the news flow out. "I wish that I could accommodate you, but I can't," said the comptroller-general, and he departed with a seven-ton load of dispendency on his face. Entering the treasurer's office the weary dispenser of news found Colonel D. N. Freeman looking the large deer of the state. Mr. Fred Wolfe was seated on a sofa, and Colonel Bob Herdeman about that time entered. Deftly again resulted in the protracted battle for an item and the pencil put as a last resort assaulted the executive officer.

Nothing today. said Colonel Warner. "I haven't a line to give you," put in Mr. Palmer, and Colonel Towers, in answer to an inquiry, said that he knew nothing and wanted to know whether Judge Clarke had rendered a decision in the prohibition contest. In this way a tour of the departments failed to furnish a single item of interest. Adjutant General Stephens, who some time ago was elected to supply supplies for the executive department, was out, and not even an apple could be had to compensate the reporter for his visit to the state house.

UNITED STATES COURT.

Business Disposed of Yesterday in The District and Circuit Courts.

The United States court did considerable work yesterday.

In the circuit court John Lumpkin, Catonsville, county, pleaded guilty to receiving and concealing illicit whisky. Sentence suspended.

Calvin Young, Walker county, got three months and $200 for receiving and concealing. Young is the man who was with Captain W. D. Kellek when he was murdered on Lookout mountain.

On the civil side of the circuit court notice was given that a motion for a new trial in the case of the Balcox & Wilcox company vs. T. O. Crenshaw. A verdict in judgment for defendant was rendered on the fourth of the present month.

The case of George R. Eger had been set for hearing but owing to the illness of one of the counsel for the defendant, the case was postponed till the 12th of February.

In the district court Taylor Crump, Gilmer county, pleaded guilty to distilling and working two months and $100. D. D. Able, Paulding county, retelling, sentence suspended, as it was thought the defendant a fit subject for the lunatic asylum. Francis Black, Elbert county, pleaded guilty to receiving and concealing. Three months and $200. John Keever, Gilmer county, pleaded guilty to distilling and working two months and $100. James Lowe, Habersham county, pleaded guilty to receiving and concealing. Three months and $200. A. J. Lane, Gilmer county, pleaded guilty to distilling and working two months and $100. Rufus Warner, Meriwether, pleaded guilty to receiving one month and $50. The case against Henry Westbrook, principal, and John Dickerson and J. L. Tripp, principals, dismissed.

The Largest Jewelry House in the South.—Is that of Messrs. D. N. Freeman & Co., corner Alabama and Whitehall streets. It is the wonder of all strangers in the city and was crowded yesterday from morning until night. Never was a more beautiful exhibition made in the south than that now being made by this firm. The public is invited to make a call and see the many beautiful things on exhibition.

$2,500 Damage Against a Railroad.—Colonel George T. Fry, an attorney for James L. Wyson, the engineer who was crippled in a collision on the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroad, in February of this year, brought suit in the United States court at Atlanta against Major Horatio Pink, receiver of the road, to recover damages for the injury. The suit has just been ended by Judge McCall awarding to the plaintiff ($2,500) twenty-five hundred dollars and costs. The judge in favor of Mr. Wyson was entered on the 17th and the money paid on the 23d of December, instant.

Mr. J. P. Stevens.—The handsome new store of this well known gentleman is the theme of hundreds of tongues. The works of art which he has here have attracted universal attention, and the most tangible evidence of appreciation is indicated by the crowds that filled his store this week. Notwithstanding the heavy sales he has made, his stock has been replenished by every day's express; he has increased his already competent force of salesmen, and is well prepared to supply those who favor him with a call today. Mr. Stevens has always been a leader in styles and prices, and his establishment is the fashionable headquarters for holiday goods this season. At least make a call at 47 Whitehall street today.

Christmas Tree Entertainment at the Christian church, tonight services will commence at 8 o'clock. The program will consist of singing, recitations, and distribution of presents to the children. The entertainment will be a most interesting one, and all are invited to attend.

Local Notice.—60 to 75 percent loaned on improved property see advertisement of Mr. Kennedy's, New York, city, 30 page, 10 cent column.

New and lovely Evening Silks, Plushes, Velvets and Soft Woolen Goods for the Holidays just received, at prices you have never bought them before. M. Rich & Bros.

The largest auction sale ever held in this city is to be held at the house of D. N. Freeman & Co., corner Alabama and Whitehall streets, on Friday, December 25th, 1885, at 10 o'clock. The goods are of the highest quality and are being sold at a great reduction. The sale is for the benefit of the poor and is a most interesting one. All are invited to attend.

$75,000 Worth of Diamonds will be on exhibition at the house of D. N. Freeman & Co., corner Alabama and Whitehall streets, on Friday, December 25th, 1885, at 10 o'clock. The diamonds are of the highest quality and are being sold at a great reduction. The sale is for the benefit of the poor and is a most interesting one. All are invited to attend.

Handsome plush Slippers for gentlemen at McKeldin & Carlton's.

Evening Silks, Evening Plushes, Evening Laces, Evening Fans, just received. All the latest novelties at M. Rich & Bros.

Immense stock of gent's Slippers at McKeldin & Carlton's.

If you want to buy holiday presents and buy them cheap, you must attend the auction sale of A. F. Pickett, the jeweler, where goods are almost given away to the highest bidder. The sale is for the benefit of the poor and is a most interesting one. All are invited to attend.

Ladies' Satin Slippers, in all colors, at McKeldin & Carlton's.

Ladies, if you want an Evening Dress for the New Year's reception we can show you the latest. Our show window displays a fair sample for what we have in stock. M. Rich & Bros.

Stamps for sale at CONSTITUTION business office.

Prohibition Whisky.—Take notice that we are selling fine whisky, brandy and wines, at greatly reduced prices to close our immense stock before July 1st. J. Steinheimer & Co., 52 Whitehall street.

Embroidered Slippers for gentlemen, only $1.00, at McKeldin & Carlton's, 35 Peachtree street.

The place to buy your Christmas presents is No. 5 Whitehall street, at A. F. Pickett, the jeweler.

Anthracite Egg and Nut Slices Always on hand. J. C. Wilson & Co. Telephone 312.

Christmas is Coming.—So is the time to close out our large stock of whisky, brandy and wines. All who desire to buy for the coming holidays at reduced prices should call at J. Steinheimer & Co.'s, 52 Whitehall street.

BUY PIANO ORGAN XMAS PHILLIPS & CREW.

Prices and terms to suit you. Music Boxes one to twelve airs, 50 cts. to $1.00.

Free Trip to Atlanta and Back. WHOLESALE Headquarters

FOR CHRISTMAS FRUITS

Car Load Choice Yellow Bananas. 65,000 Fresh Cocoanuts. 100,000 Sweet Florida Oranges. 500 Barrels Fluffy Western New York Hand Picked Cultivated Apples. 500 Boxes Fire Crackers.

Malaga Grapes, Domestic Grapes, Cranberries, Figs, Dates, Peaches, Lemons, Raisins, Domestic and Foreign Fruits, and Nuts of every kind.

N. B. We have determined to make Atlanta the cheapest market for this section of the United States to buy their fruit in. Come to town and see for yourself, and if we can't prove it, we will pay your fare both ways.

W. F. STOKES & CO., WHOLESALE FRUIT MERCHANTS, 24 Alabama Street, Atlanta, Ga.

HOLIDAY GIFTS.

Call and see the fine stock of MAGIC LANTERNS, KALEIDOSCOPES, MICROSCOPES, OPERA FIELD AND MARINE GLASSES, THERMOMETERS, AND BAROMETERS

Just received at MEYROWITZ BROTHERS OPTICIANS, 225 and 227 4th Ave., New York

Three Millions of Dollars, Leaned since 1865 in the west and south, without the loss of one dollar to lenders.

Atlanta is ahead of all cities of her size in prohibiting the sale of liquor by popular vote; so is she equal to any city in the security she offers, and in the prompt payment of interest by her people on money borrowed.

My facilities for making superior investments on city or farm property are unsurpassed.

No loan made for more than one-third the value of security taken.

Eight per cent interest net to lenders. Correspondence with parties controlling money for investment solicited. Send for pamphlet containing full information relative to Georgia farm loans, my manner of doing business and testimonials, or call and see me at room 12 Gate City bank.

L. B. NELSON.

I have positive instructions to sell some of the most desirable residence lots in the city, either for cash or in installments, on the most liberal terms—small payments and on long time. These lots are on Capital avenue (paved, gas and water), Washington street (paved, gas, water and car line), Forsyth street (paved), Fulton, Pulliam and Pryor streets. Also, a most desirable piece of land on Ira, Stephens and Gate City streets, fronting immediately on the E. T. Va. and Ga. R. R. None of these lots were ever offered so low as now.

R. H. KNAPP, 8 East Alabama street.

A nice present for any gentleman—a pair of those elegant Slippers at McKeldin & Carlton's.

Christmas is Coming. So is the time to close out our large stock of whisky, brandy and wines. All who desire to buy for the coming holidays at reduced prices should call at J. Steinheimer & Co.'s, 52 Whitehall street.

STILSON, RELIABLE GOODS, FAIR DEALING, 53 Whitehall Street.

MY STOCK FALL AND WIN IS COMPLETE IN A SUITS FOR MEN, BOYS AND CHILDREN. IN GREAT VARIETY. I WILL NOT BE UNDERSED.

GEORGE MUSE, 38 Whitehall Street.

ASK FOR AND USE DRUGS, "J. T." or Big Chunk and AND DON'T YOU FORGET IT!

REISER & STERN, GUCKENHEIMER & SON, SAVANNAH.

JUVENILES AND POETS NEW, ELEGANT, CHEAP. Photo and Auto Albums. BEAUTIFUL, ARTISTIC, LOW. BLOCKS AND GAMES. Writing Desks. From 75 cents to $10.

SCRAP BOOKS. From 10 cents to $5. XMAS CARDS. Endless Variety. Picture Frames. Any Size Made to Order.

SCREENS AND EASELS On Hand and Made to Order. WALL PAPER! E. H. THORNTON, Stationer, 25 Whitehall St.

Sold and put up, on music in m. E. H. THORNTON, Stationer, 25 Whitehall St.

Christmas Ship at Third Baptist Church, Jones Avenue. The good ship "Scotland" will arrive at the harbor of the Third Baptist church on Thursday, 24th inst., richly freighted with the most beautiful Christmas gifts for everybody who comes. There will be presents, rich and rare, such as Santa Claus alone can produce. The supply will be ample for all. The price of admission for children, 10 cents; for adults, 20 cents. For these presents will be given ranging from five dollars in value down. Some special varieties will be disposed of at the close of the entertainment. There will be songs, speeches and recitations to give additional interest to the exercises. Don't fail to come out and have the pleasant time of your life.

Red Ash Egg and Nut Anthracite. Full supply on hand all the time. J. C. WILSON & Co. Telephone 312.

Grand Display of FINE DIAMONDS!

EVER SNEE IN AT LANTA, TODAY!

$75,000.00 WORTH OF GEMS!

Corner Alabama and Whitehall Streets.

D. N. FREEMAN & CO. Jewelers.

CALL

And look at the ART GOODS we have just imported direct from PARIS, FRANCE.

These NOVELTIES are the very Latest things for CHRISTMAS GIFTS!

D. N. FREEMAN & CO., JEWELERS,

CORNER ALABAMA AND WHITEHALL STREETS.

JEWELER. LING AND BOTTOM PRICES. Atlanta, Georgia.

CK OF TER CLOTHING LL DEPARTMENTS. OYS AND CHILDREN. VARIETY. E UNDERSOLD.

38 Whitehall Street.

MMOND'S HORSE-SHOE, Natural Leaf Tobacco.

NATURAL LEAF, FORGET IT! TANNER, CURRIER & HEATH, ATLANTA.

HAVE YOU MONEY TO INVEST? so, do not be satisfied with low rates of interest when you can have EIGHT PER CENT NET.

WITH YOUR MONEY SECURED BY A FIRST mortgage upon some of the choicest real estate in the city of Atlanta; or if preferred, the best farm lands in the state of Georgia, worth in every instance three times the amount loaned. I have been exclusively engaged in the special business of negotiating this class of loans for twenty years in the northwest (state of Iowa) up to 1880, and since 1880 here in Atlanta.

Complete abstracts of title by competent attorneys and all interest and principal collected without a cent of expense to lenders. Just coupon notes, making them as convenient as government bonds. Investors are invited to call and have a talk, when they desire to invest or not. Testimonials from people who have loaned through me for years are on file in my office. C. P. N. BARKER, 312 Peachtree street, Atlanta, Ga.

CITY LOANS. $100,000 TO LOAN

On Atlanta central property at 8 per cent, five years, in sums of $1,000 to $10,000.

NO COMMISSION. The only expense is for papers and examination. C. P. N. Barker, 312 Peachtree.

Stamps for sale at Constitution Business office.

Ladies, we have most elegant stock of Evening Silks, Plushes, Laces and Fans, that has ever been our pleasure to show. Our prices too are very attractive features. Look at our show window this week. M. Rich & Bros.

December 22, 1885. ORDERED THAT THE JUDICIAL CIRCUIT BE entered on the docket of this court for the March term, 1886, in the following order, to wit: Atlanta, Stone Mountain, Eastern, Middle, Appling, Cherokee, Roane, Coweta, Flint, Oconee, Wilkes, Wilcox, Glynn, and Brunswick. The above is a true extract from the minutes of the supreme court of Georgia. C. D. HARRISON, C. S. C. Ga.

James A. Anderson & Co., 41 WHITEHALL ST. Supreme Court of Georgia.

Over Coat, Suit of Clothes, Shirts and Collars, Silk Handkerchiefs and Neckwear, Merino Underwear, Umbrellas of Silk and Alpaca. Jas. A. Anderson & Co. 41 WHITEHALL ST. Supreme Court of Georgia.

James A. Anderson & Co., 41 WHITEHALL ST. Supreme Court of Georgia.

James A. Anderson & Co., 41 WHITEHALL ST. Supreme Court of Georgia.

James A. Anderson & Co., 41 WHITEHALL ST. Supreme Court of Georgia.

James A. Anderson & Co., 41 WHITEHALL ST. Supreme Court of Georgia.

James A. Anderson & Co., 41 WHITEHALL ST. Supreme Court of Georgia.

James A. Anderson & Co., 41 WHITEHALL ST. Supreme Court of Georgia.

James A. Anderson & Co., 41 WHITEHALL ST. Supreme Court of Georgia.

James A. Anderson & Co., 41 WHITEHALL ST. Supreme Court of Georgia.

James A. Anderson & Co., 41 WHITEHALL ST. Supreme Court of Georgia.

James A. Anderson & Co., 41 WHITEHALL ST. Supreme Court of Georgia.

James A. Anderson & Co., 41 WHITEHALL ST. Supreme Court of Georgia.

James A. Anderson & Co., 41 WHITEHALL ST. Supreme Court of Georgia.

James A. Anderson & Co., 41 WHITEHALL ST. Supreme Court of Georgia.

James A. Anderson & Co., 41 WHITEHALL ST. Supreme Court of Georgia.

James A. Anderson & Co., 41 WHITEHALL ST. Supreme Court of Georgia.

James A. Anderson & Co.,

WE WILL UNDERSLL All Competitors READY-MADE CLOTHING! Men, Boys' and Children. A SENSIBLE PRESENT.

Over Coat, Suit of Clothes, Shirts and Collars, Silk Handkerchiefs and Neckwear, Merino Underwear, Umbrellas of Silk and Alpaca. Jas. A. Anderson & Co. 41 WHITEHALL ST. Supreme Court of Georgia.

December 22, 1885. ORDERED THAT THE JUDICIAL CIRCUIT BE entered on the docket of this court for the March term, 1886, in the following order, to wit: Atlanta, Stone Mountain, Eastern, Middle, Appling, Cherokee, Roane, Coweta, Flint, Oconee, Wilkes, Wilcox, Glynn, and Brunswick. The above is a true extract from the minutes of the supreme court of Georgia. C. D. HARRISON, C. S. C. Ga.

James A. Anderson & Co., 41 WHITEHALL ST. Supreme Court of Georgia.

James A. Anderson & Co., 41 WHITEHALL ST. Supreme Court of Georgia.

James A. Anderson & Co., 41 WHITEHALL ST. Supreme Court of Georgia.

James A. Anderson & Co., 41 WHITEHALL ST. Supreme Court of Georgia.

James A. Anderson & Co., 41 WHITEHALL ST. Supreme Court of Georgia.

James A. Anderson & Co., 41 WHITEHALL ST. Supreme Court of Georgia.

James A. Anderson & Co., 41 WHITEHALL ST. Supreme Court of Georgia.

James A. Anderson & Co., 41 WHITEHALL ST. Supreme Court of Georgia.

James A. Anderson & Co., 41 WHITEHALL ST. Supreme Court of Georgia.

James A. Anderson & Co., 41 WHITEHALL ST. Supreme Court of Georgia.

James A. Anderson & Co., 41 WHITEHALL ST. Supreme Court of Georgia.

James A. Anderson & Co., 41 WHITEHALL ST. Supreme Court of Georgia.

James A. Anderson & Co., 41 WHITEHALL ST. Supreme Court of Georgia.

James A. Anderson & Co., 41 WHITEHALL ST. Supreme Court of Georgia.

James A. Anderson & Co., 41 WHITEHALL ST. Supreme Court of Georgia.

James A. Anderson & Co., 41 WHITEHALL ST. Supreme Court of Georgia.

James A. Anderson & Co., 41 WHITEHALL ST. Supreme Court of Georgia.

James A. Anderson & Co., 41 WHITEHALL ST. Supreme Court of Georgia.

James A. Anderson & Co., 41 WHITEHALL ST. Supreme Court of Georgia.

James A. Anderson & Co., 41 WHITEHALL ST. Supreme Court of Georgia.

James A. Anderson & Co., 41 WHITEHALL ST. Supreme Court of Georgia.

James A. Anderson & Co., 41 WHITEHALL ST. Supreme Court of Georgia.

James A. Anderson & Co., 41 WHITEHALL ST. Supreme Court of Georgia.

James A. Anderson & Co., 41 WHITEHALL ST. Supreme Court of Georgia.

James A. Anderson & Co., 41 WHITEHALL ST. Supreme Court of Georgia.

James A. Anderson & Co., 41 WHITEHALL ST. Supreme Court of Georgia.

James A. Anderson & Co., 41 WHITEHALL ST. Supreme Court of Georgia.

